Announcements

One of the many events of the week will be the dancing party in the Country club on Friday evening when Miss William Hedges Walker will surround herself with a large company of the younger folk who are at home for the holidays. Mrs. Walker is entertaining in honor of Miss Mary Walker, Miss Berenice Walker, Messrs. Julius and Arthur Walker, her sons and the nephew in the home at this time, Mr. Larry.

The Sigma Delta club will give a dance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Harrison, 2231 East Fifth street, on the evening of December 29. This dance was originally set for the 27th but had to be changed to the above date.

Dr. B. G. Kennedy and family will have with them for the holidays Miss Thelma Kennedy, who arrives today from Mamaroneck, N. Y., where she had been attending Miss Merrill's school, and Messrs. Lee and James Kennedy, from Stanford university in California.

Mrs. Lester C. Lombard and Mrs. A. C. Cunningham left yesterday for California where they will spend the winter.

Tulsa chapter No. 133, O. E. B., will have installation of officers on Tuesday evening, December 29. Members of O. E. B. and Masons and families are invited. An entertainment and social will follow installation.

Tulsa Stars club will hold its Christmas party on December 24 at 2:30, Masonic hall. Members will each bring a gift, not to exceed 25 cents in value, for exchange of gifts.

The Atoka club will give its annual Christmas dance in the Country club on Tuesday evening when a delightful feature will be the presence of many college girls and boys who are at home for the holidays.

Miss Evelyn Monk and Edna Nelson will preside as hostesses at the dances to be given Christmas day in the Country club.

Miss Claudine Miller will entertain at luncheon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Miller, on Friday when she will have 50 friends with whom she will have a home for the holidays.

The Hadassah society will give a benefit dance in Convention hall on Tuesday evening, the funds derived will go towards the children of Palestine who are in need.

Mrs. Louella George will entertain with a dinner dance in the Kennedy restaurant on the evening of December 29.

One of the brilliant New Year's events will be the dinner dance given on the evening of December 31 in the Kennedy restaurant when the Akka Kama, the Sequoyah and the Atoka clubmen will be hosts. A special committee is arranging an unusual evening of festivity at this time when 1920 will be ushered in.

Mr. Albert J. Bell, the retiring president of the Kiwanis club, was beth last evening at dinner in the Kennedy restaurant when the retiring officers and their wives were guests the evening proving to be one of unusual enjoyment for all attending.

The Yaku club will entertain at dinner with 24 covers in the Kennedy restaurant on the evening of December 29.

Prominent events of the week are the formal Christmas dances of the Akka Kama and the Sequoyah clubs on the evening of the 24th and 25th respectively in the Kennedy restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Welch will entertain with dancing in their home on the evening of January 2, honoring their daughter, Miss Betty Welch.

Parties

The Needscraft club held a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. H. P. Hopper, this week. Mrs. Earl Thomas and Mrs. F. L. Peter were assisting hostesses. Christmas bells and holly wreaths were the decorations. There was a Christmas tree with gifts hanging for each one present. A two-course luncheon was served during the afternoon. The program was unusually attractive. Mrs. Ernest Johnson gave two readings and Mrs. George McCurdy told a Christmas story. This feature was perpetuated by H. C. Bell and George Orman. In a guessing contest Mrs. H. C. Mills made the score. Mrs. Hopper gave a piano selection. Guests were Madeline C. L. Goodale, Ernest Johnson, Forrest Welch, T. A. Lee and Mrs. E. M. Sieber of Michigan.

Mrs. Julie Constantine was hostess Tuesday afternoon, entertaining with a four-tablet dinner. Guests came to her mother and grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Halton and Mrs. E. L. Goss of Denison, Texas. Postscriptus concluded on next page.

Signs of the Times

with the glad voices of the young. Among visitors here the past week were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Emmet. How many knew when they saw "Heartland," the pretty allegorical romance staged at the Orpheum the first week in the past week, that J. K. Emmet is son of that splendid and popular actor of early stage days, by the same name. Verily, the younger Emmet has fallen heir to the mantle of courtly graces and charm of voice which made the elder one of the best beloved of comedians in his day. He reigned in the '80s and '90s and died in 1897. His son, J. K. Emmet, an adroit Irish comedian, starred in "Frits in Ireland" and "Frits Our Cousin German." When in his prime, he played in stock in the old Bush street theater in San Francisco. Maud Adams, then but a child, co-starred with him, and will you believe it, David Belasco, a boy then working behind the scenes as a valet for the actress at the wage of $2 per week. Miss Bryan J. K. Emmet's beautiful wife, who was with him last week in "Heartland," is a San Francisco girl.
